   Colleen Vera addressed the board to request an agenda to hire an internal auditor who would report directly to the board. She stated that it was important when dealing with public funds to have more than one set of eyes and that an internal auditor would be helpful. She stated that a large role as an elected trustee was to watch over taxpayer money. She stated that it was inefficient to request a report of superintendent for the following month and that the board should be able to have a person who reports directly to the board. She questioned various charges in the check register as examples of why it's important to have an internal auditor to make sure funds are being used properly.

   Josh Wallenstein addressed the board regarding Josh Flynn officially filing with the Republican Party for a seat in the Texas Legislature. He stated that the Texas Constitution, Article II, Section 19, states that no person holding a lucrative office under the state shall be eligible to serve in the legislature. He stated that it was beyond dispute that each board member serves in a lucrative position. He further stated that the question was not whether Mr. Flynn must resign but when, citing a Texas Supreme Court case from 1992. He stated that Josh Flynn must resign his current position as a board member or withdraw his filing for the legislative seat to comply with the Texas Constitution.

He stated that it was truly an honor to be a part of such a distinguished company. He reminded the board of the Thanksgiving holiday next week and that many employees would be taking the week off to enjoy time with their families. He stated the importance of employees being able to take time to spend with their families because there is usually a grind for work to be completed between Thanksgiving and Christmas. He wished everyone a safe and happy holiday with their families.
